

Eco-Dfndrs Summer Camp

An outreach project that offers youth, ages 12–15, the opportunity to create videos about their concerns regarding the environment while encouraging creativity, leadership and communication.

An 8-day immersive experience:

- Hands-on film making
- Workshops, discussion & collaboration
- Outdoor activities and exploration of the land and water
- Environmental experts, guest speakers and film industry mentors sharing expertise, feedback, and encouragement
- Developing individual voices and creating innovative stories

August 10–18, 2019 Denman Island B.C.

Apply at ecodfndrs.ca

Eco-Dfndrs Summer Camp

August 10–18, 2019 Denman Island B.C.

Prior to participating, campers are encouraged to consider this year's theme of "Water" and what it means to them on a personal, local and global scale. In order to further explore the theme, this year's outdoor activity will include kayaking and canoeing lessons in order to gain a different perspective and access to the wetlands, lakes and coastal waters on and around Denman island.

The camp will culminate in a premiere of completed and/or a work-in-progress short films for friends and family on the final day of camp. Films will also be posted on the DFNDRS website and Facebook page. No prior experience in film is required, but you must have a passion for filmmaking, a desire to create change and develop your art in a collaborative environment!

Our goal is to align with local groups, organizations and communities, in which the short films can be used to help promote, educate and inspire, such as the Denman Island Conservancy Association.

"It was awesome. I learned so much and it really inspired me to think more about what I could do in my community to help the environment. I definitely want to do it again."

—Kalena

Apply at ecodfndrs.ca