

Supporting gender creative children & youth

A free workshop for parents, caregivers & loved ones

All children and youth deserve respect, care, and equal opportunities to reach their full potential. How can we create safer spaces and experiences for our young ones who are exploring and expressing gender creative and diverse ways?

Join Ambit Gender Diversity Consulting for an evening of education, resource connections, and space to explore your questions about how best to support the gender creative children and youth in your life.

Do you have a gender creative person in your family?

Are you seeking support with advocating for your gender creative loved one?

Do you want to be a better ally to your child's gender creative friends and their families?

Do you want to take an active role in creating inclusive schools and communities?
